Pair Held for Blowing Up Two Utah Towers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Investigators say an ex-builder and a young mining engineer have admitted the $550,000-bombing of three Utah-Nevada communications facilities three weeks ago.

Police of Ensenada, Mexico, a city 75 miles south of here, arrested bearded Bernard Jerome Brous, 51, and handsome Dale Chris Jensen, 23, U.S. citizens, Saturday night aboard Brous' yacht laden with arms—machine guns, rifles and ammunition.

Sunday night Mexican authorities brought the two men to the border at Tijuana and turned them over to the FBI. Agents took them before a San Diego U.S. commissioner, who ordered them held under $100,000 bail each and set arraignment for Tuesday.

Taken into custody for questioning with them and brought here were Brous' wife, Minnie, 40, a former dancer and model, and Robert Gerald Bortoli, 28, a Reno, Nev., gambling house dealer.

Both said they knew nothing of the bombings. Mrs. Brous told newsmen she thought the explosives on the yacht were to be used in hunting sunken treasure off Peru. Bortoli said he was a guest for skin-diving.

Mexican authorities said Brous and Jensen admitted blowing up the two microwave towers and a relay station early on Sunday May 28. The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. estimated the damage at about $550,000.

Brous told a U.S. newsmen he masterminded the sabotage. Jensen told Mexican police he blew up the three installations and was paid by Brous to do it. He said Brous was in Ensenada at the time.

A copyright story in the San Diego Union quoted the two as saying the sabotage was in behalf of the "American Republican Army."

A Mexican official said Brous told him the army was intended to fight what Brous termed official corruption in the American system, including the FBI and big business.

The Union's interview was written by Robert L. Curry, editor and publisher of the Redondo Beach, Calif., South Bay Daily Breeze, who was vacationing in Ensenada.

Curry said Brous represented himself as head of the American Republican Army and said it will gain political power "by political, not violent means."

"We planned blowing up the communication equipment as a spectacular effort to bring notice to the organization," Brous said.

Brous told Curry that "hate for the privately owned utility companies" was one reason for the bombings. Another was to produce a "scarce" to bring nationwide recognition of his group.

Brous described it as "like the John Birch Society but more active."

Brous said he's non-Communist but supports nationalization of public utilities. He claimed his group is suing the telephone company for $4.7 million.

Collision Claims Victim No. 5

MEMPHIS (AP)—Perry Vardell, 11, of Rector, Ark., became the fifth victim of a June 9 collision when she died in a hospital here Saturday.

Killed instantly in the two-car collision on a hilltop crossroads near Rector were Peggy's 7-year-old sister, Carissa; Mrs. Elhel Lewis, 31, of Berkeley, Mo.; Travis Bateman, 19, of Rector, and Bateman's 15-year-old sister, Vela Lou.

Seven persons were injured in the wreck, among them Mrs. Elizabeth Vardell, 30, of Rector, mother of the two Vardell girls, and Mrs. Vardell's 5-year-old son, Nathan.

Other persons injured were Mrs. Lewis' husband, Vestal, 37; their two sons, David, 12, and Randall, 11, and 11-year-old Wendell Nunley of Rector.

The Batemans were in one of the cars involved in the accident and the other persons were in the second car.

Faubus Takes Up His Bond Drive Again

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus takes to a statewide radio-TV hookup tonight to boost his bond issue as the campaign for the $60 million plan goes into its last week.

Dr. David P. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, will tout the bonds to the staff of the state Education Department this afternoon and tonight will address a meeting of civic clubs in West Memphis.

These were the first volleys in what is expected to be a wild final week in the campaign. At stake are $60 million worth of bonds to finance construction at state colleges.

Voters will decide on the bonds in a special election June 27 — week from Tuesday.

Faubus will make another statewide radio-TV talk Thursday night, and possible another next Monday—election eve. He has frequently used the last-minute approach in various campaigns.

The group opposing the bonds is expected to step up its activity this week. The chairman of an anti-bond committee Sunday lashed the pro-bond forces for trying to paint the state's public school teachers as a "greedy, unreasonable, grasping lot" because they oppose the bonds.

In another weekend development, state Sen. Roy Milum of Harrison came up with a pay-as-you-go construction plan that he says is infinitely superior to a bond program.

Milum would spend $13.9 million from surplus revenues the first year, and pay for further construction as surplus money became available. Milum said the state treasury presently has a $15 million surplus.

His plan would give the State Hospital $4 million the first year, the University of Arkansas $2.8 million and the Children's Colony $900,000. State Colleges would get a total of $5,550,000.

He said this would take care of the immediate construction needs.

Joshua K. Shepherd of Little Rock, head of the committee against the bonds, issued two prepared statements over the weekend. One called the bond plan a fantastic plan to mortgage the future of Arkansas and fatten the wallets of bond brokers. The other defended the teachers for their stand on the bonds.

Shepherd called for defeat of the bond plan, and a mandate to the legislature to work out a more sound construction program.

Of the teachers, he said, "Since their salaries are the lowest in the nation, if our public school teachers were greedy they would have left the state long ago."

Faubus said Saturday opponents of his bond plan haven't come up with any objections that he can't answer. He said he would make some of the answers tonight.

A poll of state legislators over the weekend showed the vote on the proposal will be close, and the vote will be tight.

The executive committee of the Arkansas County Judges Association Saturday voted to support the bonds as it closed its two-day meeting in Hot Springs.

Production Starts at Union Plant

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Production has begun at a multi-million dollar bromine plant near here.

The plant, which has a rated capacity of 30 million tons of bromine annually is the second largest facility of its type in the world, Charles S. Hale, president of Great Lakes Chemical Corp., said Saturday.

Great Lakes Chemical Corp. and Houston Chemical Corp. own the plant, which is located on a 53-acre tract near state Highway 15. The brine from which the bromine is produced comes from an adjacent area.

Wrecks in Arkansas Kill 12

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Automobile accidents took 12 lives in Arkansas in the week ended at midnight Sunday. A total of 17 died violently in the state in that period.

Darrell Lynn Cobb, 18-month-old Negro, drowned Sunday when the boat in which he was riding with his mother and another couple capsized.

The adults were rescued. The tot's body was recovered. It happened on Paulkner Lake near North Little Rock. The baby was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cobb of Little Rock.

E. Jess Cobin, 31, a Negro of Plummerville, was killed Sunday when his car overturned in a ditch about 2 1/2 miles north of Morrilton on state Highway 95.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pressman, 67, of Martins Ferry, Ohio, died Saturday in a Newport hospital of injuries suffered in a one-car wreck Friday on U.S. Highway 67 one mile south of Tuckerlan.

State Trooper Billy Davis said she was riding in a car driven by her husband, John W. Pressman, 61. He lost control and the car hit an embankment, Davis said. Pressman was not seriously hurt.

Two persons died in shootings last week and one each died by electrocution, drowning and industrial accident.

Boy Stabbed as He Leaves a Church

NEW YORK (AP)—A teen-age boy leaving a vesper service was stabbed on a Harlem street Sunday. He staggered back into the church where worshippers were still present and collapsed, mortally wounded near the altar rail.

The youth was Francisco Aguil, 18, of the Bronx, a ministerial student who attended a Bible institute three days a week.

A youth identified as Jose Gonzalez, 16, was picked up by police early today. They said the stabbing resulted from an argument in which Gonzalez objected to Aguil's going out with Gonzalez's sister.

Gonzalez fled after the stabbing, police said, and then got his head shaved to try to avoid identification in the case.

Police said Gonzalez led them to the basement of an apartment house where he had hidden the knife used in the stabbing. It was a three-inch fishing knife.

Gonzalez was quoted as saying he had resented the attention being paid to his sister, Maria, 15, by Aguil, and there was "bad blood" between him and the slain youth.

Young Hero Gets His Horse

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Lee Roy Rummels, the 12-year-old boy who saved three girls from drowning last week, Sunday got the horse he has always wanted. He named it Shiner.

Tom Shamel of Little Rock, past president of the Scimitar Mounted Patrol, a Shrine organization, made the presentation to the young hero as a reward for his bravery. The National Sheriff's Association gave him a saddle.

And a group of volunteers were working on a fence and stable. A Little Rock feed store is providing six months of feed free.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus telegraphed Atty. General Robert Kennedy, recommending Lee Roy for the Young American Medal for Bravery.

Lee Roy dove into a lake last Tuesday and saved Jeannette Mullins, 8, Gladys Puckett, 9, and Shirley Puckett, 15, all of Vinny Ridge. The girls, clinging to a board, floated into deep water.

Two Major Bills Likely to Get Opposition

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heavy squalls churned up today in the path of two major bills on President Kennedy's legislative program slated for preliminary or final House action this week.

Endangered by undercurrents of politics and religion are multi-billion-dollar housing and school bills.

A coalition of conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats was waiting to scuttle both of the Senate-passed measures if the opportunity arose.

The catch-all housing and urban development bill awaits the pleasure of the powerful House Rules Committee. It is scheduled for House debate starting Wednesday if the Rules Committee gives the go-ahead. Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., indicated this would be forthcoming without undue delay.

The bill carries a price tag ranging from around 5 billion to more than $10 billion, depending on who makes the estimates. It includes a controversial provision for 40-year, no down payment loans for housing for families with moderate incomes, plus construction of 100,000 units of family housing. It is similar, except for the down payments provision, to the Senate-passed bill.

Conservatives have lambasted the housing measure as too costly and impractical.

It was their opposition which helped the Rules Committee choke an omnibus housing bill last year.

In deeper trouble is a $2.5-billion bill for aid to public schools. It also was killed off last year by the Rules Committee.

Since then, however, the rules group has been enlarged to give liberal Democrats a voting edge they lacked in former years.

Smith has balked at calling a committee meeting on the school bill until other school measures, providing long-term loans for private and parochial schools for non-sectarian purposes and loans for college students are cleared by the House Education Committee.

"We should take a look at all these proposals together," he told a reporter. "I don't propose to call a hearing on one bill only when other measures dealing with the same subject are pending."

Complicating the picture is the insistence of some members that the House act first on the private school loan bill.

In this group is Democratic Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, a Roman Catholic. Some Catholic members fear that if a public school aid bill—as advocated by President Kennedy—is passed first, the House will shelve the private school measure.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., wants action first on the bill to provide financial aid for public schools only.

It's a question of what comes first.

Wants Public to Vote Conscience

HARDY, Ark. (AP)—The Sharp County Farm Bureau board has declined to take a stand on Gov. Orval E. Faubus' proposed $60 million construction bond issue.

A board resolution adopted over the weekend said:

"The original purpose and interests of the Sharp County Farm Bureau would be such political action be perverted and the matter of approval or disapproval of the said bond issue is a matter for each individual of the state of Arkansas to decide according to the dictates of his own conscience."

Ten Inches of Rain Hit Galveston

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—A tornado whirled from leaden skies during 10 inches of rain Sunday night, injuring five persons and destroying two units of a public housing project.

Elsewhere in Texas, floods from prolonged heavy rains drove several hundred people from their homes.

"It's a mess out there," a policeman said as he watched several ambulances stall in flooded streets.

Gas mains broke. Power lines snapped. Telephones went dead. But there was no fire. Nor was there a dollar estimate of damage from the tornado that hit hardest at the Island City Homes addition southwest of the business section of this port and resort city of 67,175.

All through south and central Texas, heavy rains were reported which sent rivers and creeks rampaging and contributed to 20 deaths over the weekend.

Fifty miles southwest of here and also on the Gulf of Mexico, another tornado touched at Freeport but did only slight damage. Other funnel clouds were sighted at Corpus Christi, Victoria and Robstown.

Inland at the Texas capital, 350 persons were forced from low lying homes at Austin before waters began receding after nine inches of rain. The Colorado River flowing through the city was controlled by a chain of lakes, but considerable flooding of low lands resulted downstream.

Blanca Herrera, 45, drowned when a flooded creek washed her car from a San Antonio bridge. Fifteen persons had formed a human chain in the rolling water to reach her stalled station wagon. She and six others were saved, but she returned to retrieve her coat and drowned.

Rubber Plant to Train Personnel

(AP)—A training program for plant personnel will begin before July 1 at the Batesville Rubber Co. plant and officials said all of the plant's equipment will be in operation prior to Aug. 1. The plant, a subsidiary of Seiberling Rubber Co., will manufacture heels and soles for shoes and retreading material for tires. About 100 persons will be employed initially.

Rules Evidence Gained Illegal Can't Be Used

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court in a historic decision today ruled that illegally seized evidence may not be used in state criminal prosecutions.

This overruled a 1949 decision, as well as earlier ones. These decisions had been to the effect that in prosecution in state courts for state crimes the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment does not bar evidence obtained by unreasonable search and seizure.

Illegally seized evidence always has been barred in federal prosecutions but until today the Supreme Court had allowed the use of such evidence in state prosecutions.

Justice Clark delivered today's 5-4 decision. Justice Harlan wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices Frankfurter and Whitaker. Justice Stewart, in a brief separate opinion, also dissented.

The dissenters agreed that an Ohio conviction, involved in today's case, should be reversed. But they said the reversal should be on the ground that an Ohio law making it a crime to knowingly have in one's possession any obscene literature, was invalid.

Today's sweeping decision was given in a case brought by attorneys for Mrs. Dolores Mapp, of Cleveland. She was sentenced to one to seven years' imprisonment after police found alleged obscene books and pictures in her home. She said they belonged to a former roomer.

Operation May Bring Normal Life

CHICAGO (AP)—In two weeks, little Peter Lollar of Little Rock begins a year of intricate operations which may give him a partially normal life.

Doctors at Shriners' Hospital here will begin inserting steel pins in firm bones so they won't crack every time he moves. Peter suffers from osteogenesis imperfecta, a disease which makes his bones brittle as matchsticks.

Six operations will be necessary to reinforce the 18-month-old boy's bones. After eight months of recuperation Peter will be able to sit up, feed himself and do many other things, doctors say he will never be able to lead a completely normal life.

Mrs. Oris B. Lollar, the boy's mother, had to leave him at the hospital Friday. It was the first time she had been really separated from her son since he was born. "It was the hardest day of my life," she said. "I know Peter is in good hands. You can't go any higher than that hospital."

Mrs. Lollar will return to Little Rock but will make periodic trips to Chicago to visit Peter.

George Reynolds of Petit Jean Mountain, president of Winrock Enterprises, was elected vice chairman.

The commission's July meeting will be held at Helena to coincide with the dedication of a new Mississippi River bridge. The dedication has tentatively been set for July 27.

Koichiro Asakai, met the party at Los Angeles International Airport and will accompany the prime minister when he takes off tonight for Washington and conferences with the Kennedy administration.

The consulate general issued a statement on Ikeda's behalf in which he said the purpose of his trip is "to further deepen Japanese-American understanding and strengthen our ties of cooperation through heart-to-heart talks with President Kennedy and other leaders of your government."

"Out of these talks I hope we will find better ways of concerting our efforts for world peace and contributing to a better life for people in less privileged lands around the world."

No Sign of Maritime Strike End

By PIERCE LEHMBECK

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators in the maritime strike which has paralyzed segments of the nation's merchant fleet were further apart today following heated charges of attempted bribery and divisive tactics.

There were predictions on both sides that the strike, which began last Thursday midnight, would be a long one.

More than 100 ships have been immobilized in the nation's ports.

The attempted bribery charge was made Sunday by Jesse M. Calhoun, chairman of the National Committee for Maritime Bargaining, a group representing several unions.

Calhoun charged that the American Merchant Marine Institute had attempted to "bribe us by offering a substantial economic package if we will drop the runaway-flag issue from our demands." He said he had called upon a congressional committee to investigate.

The accusation was denied by Ralph E. Casey, president of the Merchant Marine Institute. He accused Calhoun of "lying in his teeth," and said he also would welcome a congressional investigation.

The "runaway-flag" issue is a main obstacle to a settlement. It involves American-owned ships which sail under foreign flags.

The unions want the right to organize the crews on these ships. They contend that American seamen are being deprived of jobs by the practice of hiring foreign crews on the vessels.

Wage scales on such ships are lower than on American-flag vessels. The companies insist the practice is necessary in order to compete with foreign vessels.

Wage demands for American-flag ship crews are a relatively minor issue in the strike.

National Maritime Union President Joseph Curran said his union of 37,000 members was willing to negotiate with the companies directly if the companies would make a "positive response to our economic proposals."

Casey said no. His organization and the Tanker Labor Service Committee are representing the companies in the talks.

Altogether, 85,000 crewmen, seven unions and almost 1,000 passengers, freight and oil vessels are involved in the dispute. Many ships are at sea and won't be hit by the strike until they reach a United States port.

The Greeks and Romans honored their dead with valiant floral arrangements.

Bill had been raising Queenie to be his "braggin' dog."

BRAGGIN' DOG

By LEE PRIESTLEY

I set my medicine bag down and handed Queenie's leash to Vance Birdsong. "Bill will be obliged if you'll keep her a few weeks," I said. "Allie laid the law down some. She claims she likes dogs—in their place."

Vance grinned. "Is Allie goin' to marry Bill, Doc?" "Looks like it. I hope that's all she plans. She keeps talking about a city practice." I couldn't go on. I love Bill like he was my own and it's been settled since he was a shirt tail kid that he'd practice with me. "Mind now, Vance, and keep Queenie tied. She's used to bein' with Bill every livin' minute. Seems there was something else, but it's slipped my mind."

At home while I was rubbing up our shoes—Allie had asked us both over to supper—I studied how I was getting forgetful. Clumsy too. Darned if I didn't spill licorice cream mixture all over the shoes.

Bill had been living at my house, raising Queenie to be his "braggin' dog," till he took a shine to Allie.

Allie is a good lookin' youngster with a body close coupled and well ribbed, muzzle straight and well cut, but she has a proud look and her eyes are hard and sharp. She'd raise sand about late meals and stern if a man stayed out till moonrise. But Bill couldn't see all that. Not when Allie could persuade him to send Queenie to the country because it wasn't sanitary for a dog to ride around with a doctor. It was enough to make me forgetful and clumsy.

When Bill got him after delivering a pair of twins, we went over to Allie's house. She'd asked us special to meet a distant cousin who was a doctor in Mobile. After we'd all howled, Bill told about the twins.

The young doctor shook his head. "I wouldn't know what to do with an OB outside a hospital."

Bill grinned. "Doc and I feel lucky if we've got a kitchen table that doesn't wobble."

"Such a poor class of patients and such poor pay," Allie said.

"A bellyache under a home-made shirt hurts just as much as a pain under a sport coat," I said kind of short.

"I'm thinking about Bill's welfare," said Allie even shorter.

It was only a matter of time before she'd be thinking of Bill's welfare in the city. I took the platter of chicken Allie's mother was handing and I didn't see Queenie come in. She followed the trail of licorice smell on our shoes into the dining room. See Bill she bayed at him and reared up on his chest. It made me jump and, clumsy like I'm getting, I spilled chicken and dumplings all over Allie and the young doctor.

Allie flew out into the kitchen for towels and the broom—she broom was for Queenie. We didn't say long after that.

"There's a good dew tonight," Bill said after a while. "Scent ought to hang about perfect. Let's go up on the Ridge, Doc. The boys will be out and I betcha Queenie can start that old dog fox."

Right then I recollected two things that had slipped my forgetful old mind. The anise Ted bags Queenie had been trained to trail smelled just like the licorice cream mixture I'd spilled on our shoes. And I had intended sure to warn Vance Birdsong that Queenie would chew through anything but a double log chain to get back to Bill.

...but only Flameless Electric Cooling can give you

THERE DOES DISCOMFORT!

UNITS FOR USE WITH PRESENT DUCTS...

Let's get right down to FACTS about air conditioning: COOLING is not enough, for mere cooling will not provide COMFORT. That's a job which demands REAL HUMIDITY CONTROL—removal of the heavy moisture from summer air.

Here's a simple example of what we mean: you can sit on your porch when the temperature is 75 degrees and the humidity is 85% and you'll be aware of a sticky, muggy feeling in the air. But move inside to a room that's the same 75 degrees, with only 50% humidity and you're aware at once of the fresh, invigorating atmosphere.

That's one of the jobs electricity does better—BETTER THAN ANYTHING ELSE—it gives you REAL HUMIDITY CONTROL, because the air is circulated across coils maintained at 35 degrees. In other types of air conditioning the coils rarely get below 44 degrees. The cold, thirsty coils of electric air conditioners literally DRINK UP that moisture that makes discomfort! You're cooler—you feel better—you sleep better.

Flameless Electric Air Conditioning is available in all size units for any room in your home—or for the entire house. So when you think about air conditioning, think about Flameless Electric air conditioning...for there is a difference when it comes to comfort.

Davis - Castle Vows Exchanged

The First Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Judy Beth Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Davis, to Frederick Cary Castle, son of Mrs. Hazel M. Castle and Frederick Ralph Castle of Longmont, Colo., on June 16.

Dr. John McClanahan performed the double-ring ceremony. Pre-nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. H. A. Spragins, organist, and Mrs. Wilfred White, vocal soloist.

Joist. Candles were lighted by Orval Brannan and Jerry Owen. Besides the candles, greenery and baskets of white gladioli also decorated the altar.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor-length wedding gown of white peau de soie designed with a round neckline and short sleeves. The full skirt swept into a short train in back. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a tier of pearls and sequins. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a cascade hand corsage of stephanotis centered with a purple-throated white orchid.

Maid of honor Miss Joy Ann Davis, sister of the bride, wore a dress of pink polished cotton with a silk organza overskirt. Her small pink hat had a short veil, and she carried a debutante bouquet of pink and mulberry-colored carnations.

Danny Monts served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Homer Jones and Charles Gough.

Mrs. Davis, mother of the bride chose lace for her attire, and Mrs. Castle, mother of the bridegroom, wore blue lace. Each had matching accessories and a cattleya orchid corsage.

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. A. D. Brannan greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line. There they met the wedding couple, their parents, and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table overlaid with white, was centered with a beaded colonial bouquet of gardenias, white stocks, and white carnations. Mrs. Charles Reynerson and Mrs. A. W. Melver, Jr. alternated in pouring the punch while Mrs. Ben Owen served the tiered wedding cake. Miss Judy Kaye Wright presided at the bride's table.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Melver and daughters of Nome, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. Verbon Sparks and family of Hobbs, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver of DeLeon, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weaver and son of Jefferson City, Mo.; Mrs. John Mack Weaver and three sons of Ft. Worth, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. George Coleman and family of Pine Bluff; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Regan and son of Waldo; Miss Amy Moody and Mrs. Walter Coleman of Nashville.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado. The bride chose for her travel ensemble a black and white checked cotton suit with white accessories. She pinned the orchid from her wedding flowers at her shoulder. The newlyweds will make their home in Little Rock.

Spectre of Old Love Haunts Marriage

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen; your replies to my past problems have given me peace of mind. Now my biggest worry is the girl my husband used to date.

Though he hasn't seen her, to my knowledge, since our marriage four years ago, he carries her picture in his wallet and keeps her letters written nine years ago while he was overseas in the Service.

He insists he wouldn't do anything to jeopardize the happiness of his family. I'm 23, he 31. He's a good father to our two baby daughters and I love him. But he does the taverns with the boys twice a week, yet is too tired to leave his chair if I want to square dance or see a movie. e tells me to have fun. I've tried but am back home in 15 minutes because I'd rather be with him. ehp me to make our home happy and not feel too sorry for myself. —D.

Dear D: Youth and inexperience handicaps you. Your husband probably finds it difficult to make his world fit yours. He clings to his old sweetheart's picture and letters as links with a freer past. Her rivalry is nebulous for he married you. Matrimony evidently palls else he wouldn't do the taverns with the boys.

The surest way to hold him is—let go! Guard against being over-possessive or tense. Relax, which may be what he was trying to say when he advised you to enjoy yourself. Go in for self-improvement. Read the classics for inspiration. Learn to be adult in your thinking. The true wife is a friend as well as sweetheart. Encourage your husband to discuss his boarder romance. Bring it into the open where, like a pressed rose which vanishes into nothing when touched by light and air, it will disintegrate, leaving you in sole possession of his heart.

Coming and Going

Miss Evelyn Briant is at Camp Tanako on Lake Catherine teaching day nursery laboratory class.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Leverette and Mrs. F. C. Malone are being visited this week by their granddaughters, Peggy and Kathy Malone of Camden.

Li. and Mrs. Frank H. Horton are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Horton while en route to an assignment in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mhoon, Steve Mhoon, Miss Carolyn Ferguson, and Miss Beverly Ward of Monticello returned last week from a trip to several Western states. They visited relatives and points of interest en route to Las Vegas, Nev., where they attended the high school graduation of the Mhoon's grandson, and also visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lockhart and son were here for Father's Day with Judge and Mrs. Lyle Brown.

Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Crow and the Martin Crow family went to Scott Saturday for the birthday celebration for little Miss Becky Crow in the home of Mrs. Mildred Pemberton.

Visiting in the home of G. T. Johnson this week-end were Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson and family of Dallas, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Johnson and family of Arkadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Eubanks of Pine Bluff; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Johnson and Mrs. Otis Johnson of Hope.

Dear Helen: Our daughter is 13. Until now she has been a sweet, shy, studious girl who passed all grades with high honors. Today there is nothing on her mind but boys, boys, boys! I've tried reasoning with her, even punishing her, but to no avail. She says she'll go out willy-nilly and stay as late as she pleases. How can I bring her back to her old self before something happens which she will regret? —Worried Mother

Dear Worried Mother: It is not unusual for a sensible little girl to suddenly turn into a poor, bewildered mixed-up kid when overtaken by adolescence. She is having a hard time and doesn't know how to face up to it any more than you.

But one thing is for sure, no 13-year-old girl should be allowed to date away from home or stay out till all hours. Tell her frankly what the consequences could be. Take charge. Make it your business to know her friends and the parents. Invite the youngsters to the house. Encourage them to study, play games or hold record sessions together.

Give your daughter a sense of social responsibility by letting her prepare the refreshments but lend a helping hand. Companionship rather than punishment is the answer. My leaflet, Sex Education for Teenagers, will help. It goes to you today.

Dear Helen: A boy I like got thrown out of our club. He's always in trouble. His girl doesn't care. I do. People call him a no-good but I know better. How can I help him? Sorry Friend.

Deary Sorry Friend: Sticking by a friend in trouble is fine but the girl who tries to help a boy with a bad name may find herself sharing it. There are exceptions, of course. A girl of sterling reputation might pull a no-good out of the mire but the odds are against it. If your boy has been in trouble, have a talk with his social worker who is trained to help just such cases.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available.

Large Plant in Operation

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — The world's largest single-shaft electric generator is turning out 338,000 kilowatts per hour for the Arkansas Power & Light Co. at its plant under construction near here.

The generator, which plant superintendent John P. White said is the biggest in operation, went into commercial production at 4 p.m. Friday.

Actually, the machine turns out 360,000 kilowatts per hour, but 22,000 are needed to run auxiliary motors and equipment inside the plant itself, and the net output is what is measured.

The giant generator pours electricity over a special transmission line from Helena to the Woodward Load Dispatching Center near Pine Bluff, where it is then funneled into the company's statewide distribution system.

Completion of the plant, which was begun in 1959, is expected by July 27. Total cost of the plant and its transmission facilities is estimated at $50 million.

Pretense Charge Is Dropped

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—A false pretense charge filed against Frank Skarda of Little Rock in connection with a stock transaction has been dropped in Boone County Circuit Court.

Pros. Atty. Joe Villanue asked that the charge be dismissed last week because of a lack of evidence. The charge was filed in February, 1960.

Skarda had been accused of aiding M. W. Nunn, already convicted on charges of bogus stock dealings, in the illegal sale of stock for a Hot Springs resort.

Nunn pleaded guilty in the case earlier this year and drew a prison sentence.

Bids on River Work Taken

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Bids for construction of a powerhouse and switchyard at Greers Ferry Dam on the Little Red River near Heber Springs will be opened by Army Engineers Sept. 6.

Advance notice of the bid letting for the estimated $5 million project was mailed to prospective bidders Saturday.

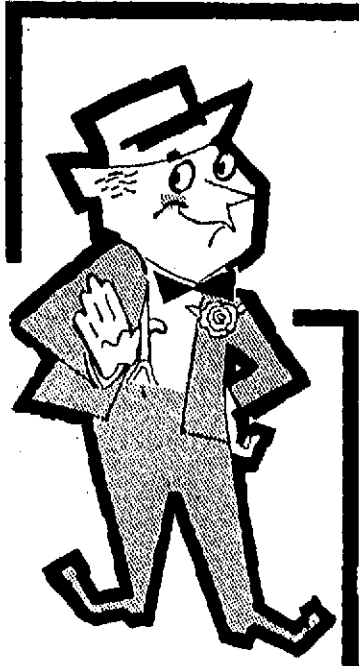

Bids will be opened at a later date on a separate contract for the construction and installation of two 50,000 KV generators at the powerhouse.

The powerhouse will be located about 3 miles northeast of Heber Springs.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with a new healing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Riders Rest, Planning More Tests

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Fifteen "Freedom Riders" rested here today before continuing to Jackson, Miss., where they planned to test segregation.

The 11 white persons and 4 Negroes left Berkeley, Calif., Friday for Mississippi's capital city via New Orleans, with the announced intention of integrating bus terminals or "filling up the Jackson jail."

One of the original Freedom Riders, Edward Blancheheim of Tucson, Ariz., a carpenter, told the group they could expect at least "66 days in jail" when the riders volunteered at a Berkeley meeting of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). Since then police in Jackson have transported 45 white and Negro male riders to the state penitentiary at Parchman and now have unlimited space.

In New Orleans, the group was met by James T. McCain, a CORE field secretary from New York. They held a quick meeting and then dispersed for private homes and a "few days rest."

Leaders of the group said their only plan was to go to Jackson "sometime."

Three uniformed policemen were on hand for the New Orleans arrival. None of the riders made attempts to test segregation in the Union Terminal.

Film Star Jeff Chandler Dies at 42

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jeff Chandler had been gravely ill for weeks but Hollywood still found it difficult to believe today that the rugged movie hero was dead at the age of 42.

"We all thought he was getting better," said a close friend. "Just a few days ago he was grinning. That's always a sure sign of recovery."

"I just can't believe it," said another friend, actor Tony Curtis. Chandler died Saturday of a generalized blood infection complicated by pneumonia. The complications developed after relatively minor surgery was performed May 13 to correct a slipped spinal disc.

Chandler suffered internal hemorrhages and infections following the surgery. He was given 55 pints of blood by transfusion during one emergency operation for a ruptured artery which lasted 7 1/2 hours.

"But he got through that okay," said a friend. "All of us thought that anyone who could get through that operation could lick anything."

But another hemorrhage and an infection further weakened him and his condition took a final turn for the worse Friday.

Funeral services for the 6-foot-4 actor were to be held today at Temple Isaiah, with private burial at Hillside Memorial Park. Chandler injured his back early this spring while making "The Marauders" in the Philippines. Rock Hudson who was in Universal's stock company with Chandler a decade ago, called Chandler "one of the most underrated actors in the movies" and besides that a great gentleman. Chandler was divorced by his former Marjorie Hoshelle in 1959. They had two daughters, Jamie, 14, and Dana, 11.

Redlegs Score Double Win, Widen Lead

BY JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati widened its National League lead to 1 1/2 games Sunday by taking two more from Philadelphia, 7-2 and 10-0, making it 12 straight over the Phillies this season.

San Francisco took over second place by thumping Chicago 7-2, and Los Angeles dropped two full games behind the Reds after losing to Milwaukee 10-2 as the Braves hit five home runs.

Pittsburgh's defending world champs are 5 1/2 back after splitting a pair with St. Louis, Bob Friend won the first 5-3 but Larry Jackson got an even break for the Cardinals by taking the second game 7-5.

In the American League, Detroit held first place, despite a 9-0 shutout by New York's White Sox who struck out 12 Tigers. Cleveland missed a chance to take over the lead when, after beating Baltimore 2-1, they lost the second game 8-4, and remained a half-game back. Los Angeles downed Kansas City 5-3 in 11 innings. Chicago defeated Minnesota twice 4-3 and 10-7, making it 10 victories in their last 11 games. Boston won its first doubleheader of the season, downing Washington 13-12 and 6-5 in 13 innings.

A former Phil. Gene Freese, led the big Cincinnati attack with seven hits in eight trips and Vada Pinson, rolling along at a .500 clip in the last five games, chipped in with two hits in each game. Wally Post, another former Phil, slammed two homers as Cincinnati slugged Phil pitching for a total of 26 hits in the two games.

Howie Nunn's fine rescue pitching, no runs in 7 2-3 innings in relief of Jim Maloney, earned him his second victory. Jim O'Toole pitched a unique 10-hit shutout in the second game. Don Ferrarese and Chris Short were the losers.

Willie McCovey and Orlando Cepeda each hit three-run homers for San Francisco, giving Juan Marichal the victory over Don Cardwell. Dick LeMay, a rookie southpaw from the Texas League, gave up only two hits in four shutout relief innings for the Giants.

Milwaukee hit five home runs in a romp over the Dodgers, Hank

Aaron, Joe Adcock and Frank Thomas tagged loser Don Drysdale for successive homers in the third. Later Adcock hit another and Roy McMillan also homered. Don McMahon who relieved Carl Willey in the fifth was the winner.

Dick Groat's sacrifice fly, following one of three errors by Card shortstop Julio Gotay won the first game for Pittsburgh despite Stan Musial's seventh homer. Jackson survived a shaky seventh inning and finally was replaced by Bob Miller in the ninth inning while winning his third, a 10-hitter. Barons Lick Travelers by Big Score

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mobile's last-place Bears, who hadn't won a ball game in 11 days, tightened the Southern Association race considerably by sweeping a doubleheader from front running Chattanooga in an astonishing display of Sunday ferocity. The Bruins, blanked twice and limited to a grand total of 11 runs in losing seven straight games, whipped the Lookouts twice by 4-2 and 10-1, making it a 3-0 lead in the series. Birmingham's 8-0 wallop of Little Rock left the Barons only one game behind Chattanooga. Four days ago, the Lookouts had a four-game edge.

Mobile's sudden form reversal set the stag for a showdown scrap between the top two clubs beginning tonight in Chattanooga. Atlanta, in third place five games away, moves to Shreveport after dividing a doubleheader at home with Nashville.

The Crackers rallied for four runs in the last inning to take the nightcap 5-4 after the Vols had won the opener 3-2. Macon and Shreveport were rained out.

Nashville, cooled off a bit after Mexico, 12. (Lightweights).

Manila — Leo Espinosa, 121.

Little Comes Through in Open Play

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Pro golf's roaming tribe will be led by newly crowned U.S. Open champion, Gene (The Machine) Littler, into the $30,000 Western Open starting Thursday at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Replacing South African Gary Player, the leading PGA money-winner, and faltering Arnold Palmer—still second in the cash list—the 30-year-old Littler will be the man in the spotlight in this shift of the golf warpath from eastern to western Michigan.

Besides the tremendous prestige Littler acquired in his 281 triumph in the 61st National Open at tricky Oakland Hills course Saturday, he also vaulted from 34th to fourth place in the PGA money list.

Littler's one-stroke victory in a thrilling photo finish was worth $14,000—hiking his year's earnings to $21,866. Player, who finished the Open in a three-way tie for ninth at 287, continues as top official money-winner with $53,704.

Palmer, who now has been knocked off the Master's throne — by Player in April — and unseated as U.S. Open king by the losing three of four to Atlanta.

Los Angeles to tie Kansas City in the ninth and his two-run homer in the 11th was the winner for the Angels 5-3.

In the National League, Cincinnati swept two more from Philadelphia 7-2 and 10-0, increasing its lead over San Francisco to 1 1/2 games. The Giants downed Chicago 7-2 and Milwaukee upended Los Angeles 10-2. Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 5-3 in the opener but the Cards won the second 7-3.

The Yanks hit two homers and scored five runs off Lary before he was lifted in the third inning before a crowd of 44,459 that set a Detroit record of 147,712 for a three-game series. Johnny Blanchard hit two homers and Bill Skowron and Roger Maris (No. 24) one each. Ford now has won five in a row and seven out of eight for an 11-2 record.

Neiman's pinch hit gave Jim Perry the first game at Cleveland but an eight-run rally in the second inning, routing Gary Bell, earned the Orioles an even break. Cleveland had knocked out Jack Fisher and scored five runs in the first inning of that second game. Dick Hall pitched eight shutout innings in relief but the victory was given to Wes Stock who got the side out after Fisher flopped.

Beat by Ford But Tigers Hold Slim Lead

By JACK HAND

Detroit clung to the American League lead by a half-game Sunday although shut out by New York's Whitey Ford, 9-0.

Cleveland missed a chance to take over the lead when it lost the second game to Baltimore, 8-5, after winning the opener 2-1.

As a result of the day's action in which Ford struck out 12 and took over the league strikeout lead with a total of 84, Detroit leads Cleveland by a half-game and New York by one full game. It was Ford's 11th victory.

The onrushing Chicago White Sox took two from the Minnesota Twins 4-3 and 10-7, making it 10 victories in their last 11 games. The Twins have lost 25 of their last 31. The second game was marred by a squabble between Pitcher Camilo Pascual and first baseman Bob Allison of the Twins. Homers by Billy Goodman, his first since 1939, and Nellie Fox, his first of the year, did the job in the opener.

A total of 13 runs was scored in the ninth inning of the first Boston-Washington game, finally won by the Red Sox 13-12, scoring eight runs after two were out with the help of Jim Pagliaroni's grand slammer. Willie Tasby hit a homer with the bases full in the Washington half of the ninth. Pagliaroni also won the second game 6-5 with a home run in the 13th.

Del Rice's pinch home run enabled Los Angeles to tie Kansas City in the ninth and his two-run homer in the 11th was the winner for the Angels 5-3.

In the National League, Cincinnati swept two more from Philadelphia 7-2 and 10-0, increasing its lead over San Francisco to 1 1/2 games. The Giants downed Chicago 7-2 and Milwaukee upended Los Angeles 10-2. Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 5-3 in the opener but the Cards won the second 7-3.

Cleveland had knocked out Jack Fisher and scored five runs in the first inning of that second game. Dick Hall pitched eight shutout innings in relief but the victory was given to Wes Stock who got the side out after Fisher flopped.

After unexpected homers by Bass,

Godman and Fox had won the first game for Chicago, the White Sox clubbed Pascual and two successors for 14 hits in the second. Pascual and Allison got into a dugout argument after Allison waved to the pitcher to keep a runner close to the bag. Turk Lown and Ray Herbert were the Chicago winners.

They had a wild day in Boston. In the opener Washington scored five in the ninth to open up a 12-5 lead only to have the Red Sox score eight after two were out. Pagliaroni broke up the second with a line drive homer into the screen, leading off the 13th inning against Tom Sturdivant. Pagliaroni's grand slammer was the big blow of the first game rally. He had won Saturday's game over Washington with a pinch homer.

Rice was the whole show for the Angels, presenting Art Fowler with his first victory of the year. After his pinch homer in the ninth Rice slammed a two-run blast over the left field fence in the 11th. Both came off loser Norm
